President's Message

Sarah Harriman

We continue to live in an attitude of hope, even if the disease statistics are not helping. WMMC has already had to change location of our first meeting, and thanks to Carolyn McColloch, we have an alternate site.

I am delighted to inform you that we WILL have our fall luncheon on October 6 (beginning at 11:00 am). Reservations are now closed, but we have 60 reservations. Please remember we are working on the honor system that all who are attending have been fully vaccinated and will wear a mask over their mouth and nose except when eating. The health of all our guests is important to us. Yearbooks will be available at the luncheon so be sure to pick yours up. I really look forward to seeing all of you—for real!

We all miss the music and are eager to see one another face to face—with a mask, of course. I urge you to continue to look out for your own safety, and also for the safety of your friends and loved ones. We're not in this alone, and we need one another.

Sarah

Directions to the Austin State Hospital Chapel

IMPORTANT: The Guadalupe Street entrance is CLOSED. A new State hospital building is being built on the Austin State Hospital grounds.

The ONLY ENTRANCE is on the South side of 45th Street between Guadalupe and Lamar Streets with a sign marked "Turner Construction Entrance #1." There is no sign marking it as the entrance to Austin State Hospital.

Enter the 45th Street construction entrance with your mask on, and stop to answer the Security Guard's questions. Tell them you are with Wednesday Morning Music Club. Continue straight to the fence at the end, also marked with the words "Turner," where you make a left turn and then an IMMEDIATE RIGHT and another quick left turn. Stop! You are here! The Chapel is the building to your right. Park in the large parking lot that contains construction workers' trucks and cars. The Chapel is marked "All Saints Chapel," has a colorful, painted mural of a tree, and is marked Building 639.

“October’s Bright Blue Weather”
by Helen Hunt Jackson

O SUNS and skies and clouds of June,
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather.

When loud the bumble-bee makes haste,
Belated, thriftless vagrant,
And Golden-Rod is dying fast,
And lanes with grapes are fragrant;

When Gentians roll their fringes tight
To save them for the morning,
And chestnuts fall from satin burrs
Without a sound of warning;

When on the ground red apples lie
In piles like jewels shining,
And redder still on old stone walls
Are leaves of woodbine twining;

When all the lovely wayside things
Their white-winged seeds are sowing,
And in the fields, still green and fair,
Late aftermaths are growing;

When springs run low, and on the brooks,
In idle golden freighting,
Bright leaves sink noiseless in the hush
Of woods, for winter waiting;

When comrades seek sweet country haunts,
By twos and twos together,
And count like misers, hour by hour,
October's bright blue weather.

O suns and skies and flowers of June,
Count all your boasts together,
Love loveth best of all the year
October's bright blue weather.

(Helen Hunt Jackson, 1830 – 1885, was an American poet and writer who became an advocate for improved treatment of Native Americans by the U. S. government.)
